It should be noted that cleaning frequencies are indicative only and are based on historic usage of the system. They should not be seen as substitutes to an actual cleanliness risk assessment undertaken by a competent person. When calculating the cleaning frequency seasonal variations and changes in the type and frequency of cooking should be taken into consideration. An additional risk assessment may be required as a result.

BESCA take no responsibility for standard of works undertaken by any third party.
Works undertaken are between the BESCA VHE member and the client as named above.
This certificate should be read in conjunction with the PCVR referenced above.
